

THE 14TH ANNUAL DUPONT SUMMIT ON SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Quaker Meeting House of Washington
2111 Decatur Pl NW, Washington, DC 20008
Friday, December 1st, 2023

In-person and online. Free and open to the public. Breakfast, lunch, and refreshments will be provided at no cost throughout the day.

Information, program, and registration:

<https://bit.ly/dupont23>

For any questions, please contact Daniel Gutierrez at:

dgutierrez@ipsonet.org

AIMS AND SCOPE:

The purpose of the Dupont Summit is to promote interdisciplinary conversation about pressing issues related to the politics and policy of science, technology and the environment. The conference mirrors the interest of the PSO and its partners in promoting conversation about current policy concerns.

Presented every year on the first Friday of December, the conference brings together academics, government, business and social leaders from a variety of backgrounds. Thanks to the kindness of our sponsors, the registration fee is waved, but registration is still important so that seating and other arrangements (such as catering) can be confirmed.

PARTNERS AND CO-SPONSORS:

The event is co-sponsored by the Policy Studies Organization, the Review of Policy Research journal, the Global Security and Intelligence Studies journal, the Journal of Critical Infrastructure Policy, the World Medical & Health Policy journal, the Risk, Hazards & Crisis in Public Policy journal, the Policy & Internet journal, the American Public University System, and the APUS Center for Cyber Defense (CCD).

