The Mid-Atlantic Regional Meeting (MARM) of the American Chemical Society (ACS) will be held May 28-31, 2025, at Seton Hall University in South Orange, New Jersey. At this meeting we will celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the North Jersey Section of the ACS. A plenary lecture will be given by Nobel Laureate Morten Meldal (2022); a co-recipient for his work on the development of click chemistry and bioorthogonal chemistry. Keynote lectures will be presented by Phaedria St. Hilaire, angel investor and co-founder of ProWoC (Professional Women of Color) and by Rebecca Ruck, Associate Vice President in Process Research & Development at Merck & Company and co-founder of EWOC (Empowering Women in Organic Chemistry). Programming is accepted in all areas of chemistry. Organized symposia areas include Advances in AI in Chemistry, Biomaterials, Optical Materials, Environmental Chemistry, Mechanistic Organometallic Chemistry, Chemical Biology and Biochemistry, Green Chemistry and Organic/Medicinal Chemistry. Please join us to hear innovative research and to mark our 100th Anniversary.
